

The North Carolina Office of School Readiness
Announces a Statewide Professional Development Opportunity
BRIGANCE® Preschool Screen-II Training

During each half-day BRIGANCE® Preschool Screen-II training session, participants will be guided through the instrument as they identify the components and the purpose of each. Participants will self-assess their knowledge of each component as a result of information presented through hands-on activities and practice. First-hand experience will be an integral part of the training, as each participant will administer the components of the instrument, score and interpret results.

Each session will include a discussion about the purpose of developmental screening of children, appropriate and inappropriate uses of screening information, and suggested practices for using information to inform families, consider referrals and guide instruction.
